The meeting got off to a rather “different” start with a gang of west siders that seemed to be taking over our club.....after the initial shock, our members came out from covering under their tables to greet the Modesto High Key Clubbers. This “gang of 7” then proceeded to entertain and wow us with enthusiasm that was contagious. Would you believe our entire club got up in three lines of 10 each and drew pictures on each others backs. ??? You had to be there to understand, however, I was there, and my line even won the contest, and I still didn’t understand.....(maybe my new hearing aids need to be re-adjusted).....

All in all, it was a fun meeting, and those members that missed out, really missed out.....These Key Clubbers were all International Baccalaureate students (that means they are really smart) advance students and as sponsors for their club, they really do us proud.

Our own Judge NAN JACOBS paid a happy buck or two because she was so thrilled to see a group of students doing community service work that was not 'court ordered' from the bench.

As the Key Club got to keep all the money raised through fines and happy bucks and auction items, members were very generous. When some of the 'old timers' (are you paying attention ROGER V. ??) learned they could get a hug from a very pretty young Keyclubber they really started to open up their wallets. All in all, they raised about $150 for their efforts.

Guests today were Pat Glatke (spouse to this editor) and Lucian the 8 yr old grandson of ERICKA.

Greeters were DAVE EPPS and DAN FITZGERALD

NAN JACOBS bought the 'fine-free necklace', we'll have to watch and see what she spent it on.

Those of you that plan on buying fireworks for the 4th, our co-sponsor of the Wine Country event DMCF are selling from their booth in front of their office on McHenry. Do business with them and tell them 'thanks's for helping with our event.....

MENSHEW & MCGRATH made the trek to the marble can, but to no avail.....

JIM MESQUIT, chairman of the Wine Country Evening, reported that the tickets will be available at next weeks meeting. He also passed out a paper for each member to write down their prospective customers. It also had several suggestions on what it takes to sell your tickets. All it really come down to is telling people your club is raising money for worthwhile childrens programs in Modesto by putting on this first class event and would you please show your support by buying two tickets ??.....The money not only goes to a good cause, the purchasers will enjoy themselves.....WHAT COULD BE EASIER ???????

JOYCE A. reminded everyone that MO-Band is every Thursday night, Our club night is next Thursday July 8th, so call JOYCE so she can save a space for you and your spouse (bring a bottle of wine to share with your favorite editor !!) hint, hint.....

MARGARET T. paid a sad, sad $20 as she had her flight cancelled to the convention in Las Vegas so she was unable to go. This means she is really looking forward to the Convention in Reno in August.....let's get a group together and go.....I know of several golf courses in the area.....

JEREMIAH W. did make it to the convention, but due to our special program today he was unable to give his report (don't you really appreciate those Key Clubbers now ??)

See ya at Mo-Band.....Terry
